

Seat Management Information Bulletin #4

IRS will not move forward with a public-private competition under OMB Circular A-76 for the entire Seat Management program. The IRS is working with the Department of the Treasury and the Office of Management and Budget to assess alternative approaches, including Business Process Reengineering, to meet the IRS's Seat Management requirements. To this end, the IRS remains committed to the original goal of improving overall Seat Management performance while reducing overall risk to the Service.

This is the last Seat Management Information Bulletin to be posted.
